

LISTS 123 JOBS OPEN IN ARSENAL

Commander Says Rates Will Be Increased April 14

A pay increase of 12 cents an hour for ungraded positions at the Joliet Arsenal, effective April 14, was announced today by Col. Byron Rife, commanding officer, as he revealed that 123 jobs are open at the arsenal.

Preference in hiring will be given to war veterans, Col. Rife said. Hiring will be done thru the United States Employment service.

LARGEST individual group of workers to be hired, of the 123 jobs open, will be 50 ammunition handlers.

Others to be hired include eight millwrights; six millwright foremen; six steamfitters, two packer and stock pickers; two automobile body men; four mechanics; one sign painter; 16 fire-fighters; 12 patrolmen; five explosive operator supervisors; one engineering draftsman; one ordnance engineer; one messenger; three storekeepers; three clerk; and two clerk-typists, female.

EMPLOYEES in jobs at the arsenal are required to work a 40-hour week, Col. Rife declared.

Veterans interested in any of the jobs at the arsenal may obtain them by filing application with the United States Employment service either in Joliet or in Kankakee. The jobs are in civil service.
